ELECTRICITY IN THE FAMILY. Electricity is so readily utilized, whenever it is available, that it is becoming a servant in the affa'rs of daily life in so many different ways and so insidiously that many people are scarcely aware of its practical uses in their own affairs. It is in its application to the operation of the family sewing machine that the familian use of electricity is made practical in the home. The cost in the family of operating a sewing machine by foot power is not measured by dollars, but by the expenditure of the vitality for which it calls, and whatever of this cost can be saved is as desirable, in fact, more important than a money saving. For this purpose the DIEHL ELECTRIC BALANCE-WHEEL MOTOR is unique in being the only one than can be applied directly to the driver that the machine the place. ing shaft of the machine, taking the plac of the balance wheel.

It is as easily handled as the ordinary incandescent lamp and its consumption of the electric current is the same, costing about 1 cent per hour. This motor can be seen in practical operation every day at THE SINGER MANUFACTURING COM-PANY'S shop, No. 616 9th st. n.w., where all sewing machine users are cordially in vited to call and examine it.

PROTESTS AGAINST CHANGES

Extension of Streets in the Second Section.

Papers Filed Before the Suburban

Highway Commission Against

Plans of Commissioners.

Twenty-five written protests have been fled with the suburban highway commission against the plan of the District Commissioners for the extension of the streets in that section of the District bounded by Florida avenue and the District line and North Capitol street and the Eastern branch. The protests have been referred to the District Commissioners for investigation and report. The following are some of the protests: Washington & Heald for Mrs Fiorence McDevitt, suggests that ist street northeast stop at Rhcde Island avenue extended.

W. D. Davidge protests against short street connecting Harewood road with 4th street, and against the east and west street at 4th street and Bunker Hill road. Robinson heirs protest against Fort drive being put through the lanes owned by them, especially the Robinson subdi-vision, and against any part of 4th street through subdivision, etc. It is claimed the proposed changes are not legal. John E. Green, D. D., for the Marist

Society, objects to plan of street extension so far as society's interests are concerned, and asks especially that the boulevard and reservation scheme be dropped. Property was purchased for a school, and plan takes

Reuben Cox and Jane Reihead protest against Dalgren Circle, Montana avenue and Cincinnati street being changed from their present location in South Brookland, and insist that there is no right, power, authority or justice in proposed changes in that section.

George Truesdell objects to the extension of U street through block 7 of Eckington. He says there is no public need of such street; that its grade would be excessive; that it would entail a cut of twenty-five feet and destroy a grove of very fine true.

Fulton & Edwards, for Mrs. E. B. Goodfellow, and Samual Maddox, for Theodore Mosher, protest against the extension of Delaware avenue through the Youngshor. Delaware avenue through the Youngsbor-ough tract east of Eckington, as it would work a great loss and injury to them without just grounds.

Lieut. Francis Windlow protests against the extensions in the tract known as Brenitwood, on Florida avenue, and says public needs do not require a subdivision of the property at present.

E. M. Gallaudet, president of the Deaf and Dumb Institute, protests against the prop selecters on through Kendall Green. and says the property affected will be need ed in its entirety for the purposes of th

Lafayette C. Loomis requests that Montello avenue from 22d street to Albany street be retained as a public highway.

T. L. Holbrook, for Washington Brick Machine Company, protests against the plan for extending east and west streets through the tract east of Trinidad. He says that Trinidad, subdivision management. that Trinidad subdivision was approved by the Commissioners with the idea that the Trinidad streets should be extended to the Eladensburg road.

W. T. Rosenbaum protests against extension of K street, because it will greatly damage his property.

A. B. Clark also protests against the extension of K street for the same reason.

B. L. Nevins objects to plan of widening Gales street, and suggests that it could be widened better by taking all from the north

J. E. West and fourteen others protest against any change in 19th street through Rosedale. They state that they have purchased homes on this street and it will be a great handicap to abandon them.

A. M. Raymond and eighteen others protest against the plan of widneing Gales street, and against any change in 19th and 20th streets, between Gales and Benning road, on the ground that it would be detrimental to their property.

Jane Arnold protests against the extension of streets in Metropolis View, as the plan would take nearly all of her land and leave her no way of making a living.

Wright Rives, for Rives estate, protests against the extension of Montgomery street beyond the Bladensburg road, as it would greatly damage his property. The Potomac Terra Cotta Company reouested the following changes in the plan. That the avenue west of railroad be extended parallel to railroad to Riggs road that 3d street be made to terminate at Ter-ra Cotta station; that the diagonal street running northwest from the railroad be omitted, and that 2d street be extended north. The changes are suggested as af-fording a better outlet for the company.

PECULIAR ACCIDENT.

Steel Screwdriver Produces an Electric Display. A rather curious accident which might easily have had a more unfortunate ending than it did, occurred yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock in the store of I. Grosner, at 914 F street. A clerk in the store had mounted a stepladder to screw a bracket to the shelf on which goods are kept near the door. The switch which controls the cur rent and wires furnishing the incandescent ight is situated just over the spot on which the bracket was to be placed. While the clerk was engaged in the work the ladder in some way slipped a few inches, and in order to save himself the young man threw up his arm, bringing a steel screw-driver which he had in that hand against
